

TYPE D: WHEN AN ENTITY OR HUMANOID IS SEEN IN THE SAME AREA WHERE UFOS OR UNKNOWN OBJECTS HAVE BEEN REPORTED.

TYPE E: WHEN AN ENTITY OR HUMANOID IS SEEN ALONE WITHOUT RELATED UFO ACTIVITY, EXAMPLE: BEDROOM VISITATION.

TYPE G: WHEN THERE IS DIRECT CONTACT OR INTERACTION BETWEEN A WITNESS OR WITNESSES WITH THE HUMANOID OR ENTITY, EITHER AGAINST AS A RESULT OF A FORCED ABDUCTION OR A VOLUNTARY CONTACT.

TYPE F: WHEN THERE IS A "PSYCHIC" CONTACT BETWEEN ENTITIES OR HUMANOIDS, BUT AN ENTITY OR HUMANOID IS NOT NECESSARILY SEEN.

TYPE H: WHEN THERE IS A REPORT OF AN ALLEGED CRASH OR FORCE LANDING OF A UFO WITH RECOVERY OF ITS OCCUPANTS. OR WHEN AN ANAMOLOUS ENTITY IS CAPTURED OR KILLED BY EITHER A WITNESS OR MILITARY PERSONNEL.

and shoulders of a mottled brown and black reptilian humanoid figure.

It seemed to be mouthing words or something, no nose, reptile like folds where the nose would be, dark yellow eyes. It had a 'hand' with 3 claws one was bigger than the other. It seemed to motion while speaking. It had teeth also, little white points so they stood out against the color of the mouth. He couldn't hear anything, words or sounds. There is a marsh nearby and usually there were very loud mating frogs at that time, but the witness didn't hear that either. After a few minutes the beam, image and eyes disappeared. He looked outside and saw an out of place blue, white star scintillating and then it disappeared. The witness speculated that the "star" might have been projecting something and it had struck his window from that angle striking the spot right where the fruit tree was. (2)

On August 4 2010 around 1808 the witnesses were in a Burger King drive through line the West Chase area of Tampa, Florida, when they looked up and saw a dark humanoid figure floating down from the sky. It was about 400 or 500 feet away from them. The reporting witness reported that there were no airplanes, helicopters or other crafts in the area at that time. They were stuck in the line at the drive through restaurant so they were not able to follow it, to see where it was landing. The weather was overcast and shortly after the sighting it began to rain. (3). The source indicates that the witnesses elected to remain completely anonymous. (Don't blame them).

On August 5 2010 in Eastern Kentucky a group of friends were spending the night together when the power in the neighborhood went out at 4:30 a.m., sending them outside with curiosity. But when they stepped outside, the group noticed "very strange lighting, purplish lighting with no thunder or rain to go with it."

Then the heavy air traffic, they claim that under normal circumstances, this is unusual. Seven aircraft were flying over the area "in patterns making a rough perimeter around the substation." (electrical substation?). Then looking up in the sky, they noticed what they thought was a star that was "shining brighter than the others." The lighting flashed again, "the star became a reddish color," another lightning flash and the object was gone. About 5 minutes later, then noticed "a bright egg-shaped object zipping across the sky." The object had no flashing FAA lighting, was silent, and was in view for about one minute before vanishing. Five minutes after this, a helicopter came into view. Then 20 minutes later, another egg-shaped object came into view, but "this one much closer, running a zigzag pattern before going behind some trees and fading out. These craft moved exceptionally fast, and performed moves planes cannot.”

Everything seemed to return to normal and the group went inside---discovering that it was now 6 a.m. “Looking back we found the memories were really fuzzy and it had felt as if we had lost time--that time had went too fast.” (4)

A strange event was reported to have occurred on August 11 2010 around 1506 in Midlothian Illinois (a suburb south of Chicago). The main witness and her boyfriend were playing pool in her basement. They had started another game and she had just lit up a cigarette. Both suddenly felt a “flicker.” They awoke in the same position by the pool table except that the cigarette was gone and no lighted cigarettes were found. The boyfriend said that he saw a flash of light and then a “time lapse.” He thought that around 15 minutes of time was missing. (5).

A triangle-shaped craft reportedly crash landed on a mountainside in Sanger, California (just outside Fresno) on the night of August 21 2010. A family who observed the “hard landing” reported the incident to California Mutual UFO Network (MUFON) state section director Jeffrey Gonzalez. According to Gonzalez, while taking the phone report, he heard a woman in the background say, “It’s trying to take off, It’s trying to lift!” The witnesses claim that the downed craft ascended 30 to 40 feet trying to take off again, but was unsuccessful.

The crash site is private and inaccessible from public roads, which prevented MUFON investigators from reaching the area, but unmarked vehicles allegedly managed to swarm the scene shortly after the incident. From a public vantage point, Gonzalez reported seeing something resembling an arc welding light coming from the crash site during the evening, which led him to believe that the individuals who arrived in the unmarked vehicles were either attempting to repair the craft or dismantle it. The following morning, Gonzalez was able to see scorch marks on the ground, and surprisingly, the craft was still there. He supposedly has video footage of the crash site and the “stingray-shaped” craft, as he described it, and will make the video available after it has been processed. According to Gonzalez the videos are being transferred to his computer, but are taking longer than usual because the camera he used doesn’t have a digital output. The witnesses have called Gonzalez in the past, and they apparently see frequent UFO activity in their area. (A video posted on Youtube shows a triangle shaped craft flying over Sanger, the day after the craft). (6)

Additional information on the above intriguing case indicates that the main witness, “Justin” and his wife and mother had gone outside to see on the side of the mountain what appeared to be a triangle shaped object sitting on the side of the mountain. He said it had white lights on each corner and a bright light underneath in the center with some blue and red lights on the sides. He said the shape was definitely a triangle. After observing it for a couple of minutes, he said the craft lifted up about 30 to 40 feet as it was trying to take off but could not and the craft again fell to the ground. It attempted to lift off again with no luck and again the craft slammed back down. It did not try to take off anymore. He even said it looked like the craft was damaged on one side. After a few minutes went by, the 3 witnesses started to see vehicles---cars and trucks---arrive at the scene. These vehicles came from over the mountain and from below. He said they just came out of nowhere. He did not know if they were military or not. By this time it was dark and they see the vehicle’s headlights on the hill and what he says are helicopters flying overhead...but he wasn’t sure. By the time Gonzalez arrived he could only see 3 lights on the hill. At around 2300 he began to videotape other vehicles coming to the site, and on a couple of occasions captured very bright blue flashes of light coming from the area.

Gonzalez stayed in the area all night and claims that in the morning around 5:45 he was able to see what appeared to be a bunch of pine-trees and what seemed to be a house, and then he noticed what looked to him to be a gray or metallic object lying right in front of that house. He said he tried to zoom up but it was still too far away. It was hard to tell the shape of the craft but it eventually it starting taking the shape of a triangle or sting ray in Gonzalez’s eyes. (7). (Additional information is still pending on this alleged incident).

On the evening of August 26 2010, around 2010 near South Greensburg Pennsylvania, just after getting dark, four people were sitting around in the yard having a barbecue and enjoying the beautiful weather when suddenly, their attention was drawn skyward by a sound like a “swish” or a “swoosh” or as one witness stated, “like air coming straight down.”

Several of the observers at almost the same time yelled out some exclamations including one man who said, “What the hell is that?” They were all startled to see a tremendously large bird that was flying over a tree in the yard about 30-40 feet overhead. The man who was doing the cooking turned and looked up to see the creature fly above him at a distance of about 40 feet away. As the bird passed the tree, it veered slightly to the right and went straight down the road ahead, maintaining its low level path. When first observed, the massive wings of the creature were in an upward position and were beginning to drop slowly, almost as if they were rolling to the bottom. The swoosh sound could be heard when the wings were moving. The powerful bird had flown about 125 yards down the road, at which time the wings were coming back up. The creature was observed as it continued to move steadily down the road, passing just above the roof top of a house with its wings flapping slowly and steadily about 3-4 times until it reached a group of trees about ¼ mile away, where it was lost from sight. It took about 20 seconds to go the ¼ mile distance.

The source was able to interview two of the witnesses at the scene and they were able to provide a detailed description of the giant flying creature. As it passed over, it appeared as though it was peering below, with its head and beak positioned downward. It was estimated that if the bird was on the ground it would stand between 4 ½ to 5 feet tall. The entire body was the same dark color, either darkish brown or black. The body width was about 25-30 inches wide. One witness said the body, “was very bulky and husky.” The head was oval shaped, and the beak was short for the size of the animal, about 8-10 inches long. The tail was about 2 feet long and came out wide to a point. It was the size of the wingspan of the creature that impressed the witnesses, which they estimated at 10 feet or more in length. When asked why nobody thought to take a picture, they pointed out that while there were cell phones lying there with camera functions, all involved were mesmerized by the encounter. One fellow he talked with said that after the experience he felt as if he was “almost in shock.” It was later learned that another witness who lived along the road where the big bird flew over also reportedly saw the creature. One witness has been a long time hunter and is very familiar with birds native to the state and is certain that he saw something quite unusual. The area where these observations have taken place, while surrounded with some wooded locations, is well populated and nearby Route 119 is a highly traveled roadway. (8)

On August 28 2010 in Fort Worth Texas at around 2 to 4 a.m. a witness was lying in her bed asleep when she woke up with a strange feeling that something was near her. When she opened her eyes, she saw blue, red and green lights above her. When she tried to focus in on what I was looking at she saw part of a circular rim almost like the edge of a plate. She then got the feeling that she was about to be “taken”. She became frightened and quickly turned around toward her husband. She closed her eyes and the next thing she knew she was waking up to her alarm going off. The image is fresh in her head and now she is afraid to go to sleep. She is not sure if she was taken and when she tried to share the incident with her husband he laughed at her (typical reaction). (Bedroom visitation? Or abduction?). (9)

On August 30 2010, in Lees Summit, Missouri a witness had initially woken up at 3:00 a.m. because his dog was acting really funny. The animal was growling and smelling the bedroom window. So the witness thought that it needed to “use the bathroom”. He went outside and smoked a cigarette while his dog went into the yard. He was looking up at the sky trying to find the moon and he saw a large blue light. At first he thought it was an airplane, but then it started moving closer toward his yard and he saw two other blue lights with all three forming the shape of a triangle all moving together toward his yard. He kept looking to see what it was then got scared and decided maybe he should go back inside so he called his dog and went inside. Later on that night around 2255 the witness went to let his dog out again. He was acting strange. He smoked a cigarette looking at the sky and once again there was the big blue light, but a little bit farther to the side of where it was the first time. This time he only saw two blue lights and he was looking at them trying to see what they were. The next thing he knew he was looking down at the ground had no cigarette in his hand anymore and he got up to look for his dog which acted as if he had “seen a ghost”. He started growling and smelling toward where the light was, but the light was already gone. He went inside and it was now midnight. He doesn’t know what happened between the hour he was outside and does not remember. A couple of months before his brother told him about a weird shaped light outside his window, but nobody believed him. (10). (Missing time perhaps an abduction event?).

At the end of August 2010 in the area of Guanica, Puerto Rico a strange creature with wings resembling that of a giant bat, which locals had likened it to a gargoyle has attacked several local livestock and also a local man. The attacks from the supposed gargoyle are similar to the better known and “mythical” Chupacabras. Apparently this gargoyle type creature also sucks the blood out of its victims. Some of the locals identify the creature as indeed a Chupacabra but others claimed that it is a different type of creature, a sinister denizen of the old ruins and tunnels of the ancient sugar cane mill “Central Guanica” located in the Ensenada barrio.

The attacks have been reported for years in the region but the recent majority have been in Guanica, but also in nearby Lajas and San German. The creature has been seen by numerous locals who have opted not to make official reports with the local authorities. The man that was reportedly attacked by the winged creature suffered wounds to his stomach and deep scratches on his back. The man reported that a strange creature with huge wings had “ambushed” him in his backyard. A local police officer by the name of Miguel Negrón reported that while patrolling the old barrio area he heard loud flapping of wings coming from the top of a nearby zinc roof. Officer Negrón says that some of the witnesses describe the creature as resembling a huge bird that gives off a strong sulfur-like smell and devours live animals, like dogs, cats, horses, draining most of its victims of blood. According to investigator Professor Reinaldo Ríos some have described the creature as “gargoyle like” and grotesque in nature. (11).

On September 2 2010 around 4:30 a.m. a witness at an unspecified location in Pennsylvania reported seeing a “flash of green light” in the bedroom followed by an hour and a half of missing time after observing a cylinder shaped object in the sky during the early morning hours.

The witness thought the object in the sky might be a star, but noted that “it looked like a cigar or cylinder shape.” The time was 4:30 a.m. and the witness went inside and lay down in bed. Very shortly after the witness reports both a flash of green light and a voice speaking in a language not understood. “Shadowy” figures were seen in the bedroom.

“I couldn’t move, I felt my dog up against me, but she never moved or barked,” the witness stated. “I tried very hard to move my arms and feet, but it was like having sleep paralysis, but I knew I was wide awake. I definitely felt, and caught glimpses of the presence of small shadowy figures in the bedroom.”

The witness then reports that they did not feel as though they were in their bedroom any longer. The next recall is that they were back in their bedroom and the time was 6:04 a.m. (13).

In an undisclosed location in Missouri on the night of September 3 2010 around 30 minutes after midnight an anonymous witness reported that he had been awakened by a bright flash in the room like a camera flash. He opened his eyes and saw a small disc-like UFO in the corner of the room with a large dome on top of it with windows all around the dome. The disk was a light gray metallic color with black around the windows, it was lighted on the inside and there were no lights on the outside, except the one it kept flashing from the front of the vehicle. The witness watched the 12” diameter craft move about the room from corner to corner, flashing the strobe-like light (he believes it was a camera of some sort), then it hovered over his bed.

He tried to remain as still as possible while shaking his wife and getting her to wake up. She also saw the craft just as it moved into position near the foot of their bed. He noticed a very low humming sound. It then moved slowly forward and that is when they saw the tiny beings inside the craft looking out at them---they both sat up in bed and the beings looked surprised, then the craft took off very quickly towards the closet/chimney area and disappeared. They could not get a good look at the beings inside the craft, but the witnesses claim that they had large heads for their small bodies, and they looked humanoid. All he could see was a kind of gray skin color and he thinks the eyes looked more like human eyes, not large almond-shaped eyes that are like the “typical grays”. Later after they had fallen asleep again, the witness again woke up and saw a white-gloved hand floating approximately 10” above his head. He only saw this for a couple of seconds, and then it disappeared. He jumped out of bed to investigate but could find nothing in the room. (Apparently the couple has seen similar things in the past). (12).

A bizarre report came to light on September 21 2010 from Egg Harbor, New Jersey, as witnesses claimed to have seen a ‘person’ falling from the sky on Tuesday.

Kelly Hale told Egg Harbor police that she and two co-workers at Shore Veterinarians were looking out their office window when they saw someone plummeting ‘straight down, no parachute, no paraglider.’ Ms. Hale didn’t think the person---who was free-falling headfirst, at a slight angle--was wearing a parachute. Reports said three also saw a small plane pass by, and that there were no reports of missing skydivers.

From NBC Philadelphia:

“You could see the arms and legs flailing and his clothes were blue, a dark blue like a navy, black and gray,” Hale said. “There’s no doubt that it was a person. We’re 100 percent sure.”

Egg Harbor police, with in the air help from U.S. Coast Guard and New Jersey State Police, searched the area on Tuesday.

“We didn’t see any signs of debris, we didn’t see any broken branches...of something like, falling through the tree-line,” U.S. Coast Guard Lieutenant Commander Paul Whitmore told NBC Philadelphia. “We didn’t see anything out of the ordinary, but that’s not to say it didn’t happen.” (14).

ENCOUNTERS WITH THE “BLONDS” AND THEIR KIN.

Case studies:

Among the dozens if not hundreds of humanoid types reportedly encountered worldwide by independent witnesses of varied backgrounds and nationalities are a ‘sub-category’ known by different monikers, such as “The Blonds”, Nordics, tall whites, Venusians, perhaps even “Angels”.

Even though this type of entities were popularized in Contactee lore by such people as George Adamski (and his Venusians), Howard Menger, and others in the early 50's and later by latter day Contactees like Enrique Rincon (Colombia) and Sixto Paz Wells among others. They had been apparently encountered and reported by others outside the Contactee-realm before and after Adamski and Menger and independently of Wells and Rincon and from diverse locations worldwide. And unlike popular belief these entities are not all reported to be “tall” and the saviors of humanity, some act totally indifferent of humans, even perhaps with ‘cold’ indifference. In order to illustrate the different types of this category of entities and their varied behavior and locations of appearance, I will summarize a few sample encounters.

The Soldier and the blond woman

In the summer of 1949 near an unnamed village in the Brusilov area, Zhitomir region, Ukraine (then USSR) the witness, Vasily, a retired officer of the Red Army had returned to his native village after the war (The Great Patriotic War) and one day he was returning to his village through a field of wheat located under some high-voltage electrical power lines. Everything was as usual, but suddenly a very unusual silence seemed to envelope the area.

The stunned Vasiliy felt as if he were in a sort of ‘vacuum’, (Oz effect) all the usual sounds, like birds, crickets, the wind, etc, were gone. Vasiliy stopped walking and looked around, at this point he saw a bizarre woman standing close to him. The first thing he noticed was her unusual height, she was almost gigantic, perhaps 2.5 meters tall or taller. She had yellow-golden, shiny, wavy long hair, bright and unusually deep blue eyes. The strange woman was dressed in a tight-fitting silvery metallic overall. The outlines of her figure were unusually correct and very beautiful. Somehow, the witness felt afraid and immediately took out his pistol and screamed at the woman, ‘Hands up! Don’t move!’ his first thought was (This was at the start of the Cold War) that the strange woman was some sort of foreign spy or saboteur dropped in the area by parachute.

However in the very next moment Vasilii suddenly felt unable to react as usual, all his normal functions appear to slow down, he apparently began to lose control of his body functions, soon he was paralyzed and in a trance-like state, unable to utter a single word. Next he heard the woman’s voice directly inside his head, her lips were not moving. He heard, “Hide your toy!” as she pointed to his pistol. Suddenly Vasilii was then able to move again, and felt very unusually relaxed and he did as he was told. The strange woman then motioned for him to follow her somewhere and the next phrase Vasilii heard in his mind was, “Would you like to come with us” We will show you other planets!” But out of fear Vasilii refused the “invitation”, he next heard, “Well then, go and continue your way!” and then the woman simply disappeared in plain sight of the witness.

Out of fear Vasilii dared not to tell anyone except for a limited number of trusted people about his encounter. He also found out that during the time when he had met the strange woman in the wheat field there had been a problem with the electrical supply of the village. Apparently there had been an alien vehicle near the witness but it had been probably optically disguised or camouflaged. (15)

The Alpine guide and the strange visitors

In early 1951 in the small village of Casteil, Pyrenees Orientales, France, Jacques B. Bley, then an Alpine guide and inn keeper, was confronted by a strange man who bowed to him and asked to be furnished every day with 2 bottles of milk and some bread. This man, over 6ft tall, with blue almond shaped eyes and blond hair falling to his shoulders was of athletic physique, with long fingered white hands, and wore extremely tight trousers, black boots, and an ample shirt and jacket with tight sleeves. His unusual appearance attracted attention. This man came to the hotel for milk and bread every day for a few weeks. Asked where he came from, he replied “From above.”

Gradually he began to talk with Bley, “developing profound themes of social political character,” which Bley could understand only with difficulty. Bley learned that he was engaged in making a topographic map of the local mountain massif, and was shown it; “a team of topographers would have had to work 2 months to do this work, and the unknown man had done it all by himself in less than 15 days.” One day he secretly followed him to his camp, and found him living in “a strange conical tent, metallic gray, very low, near which was an identical being who appeared to be a woman.” Another time, Bley’s young son photographed the 2 beings, over the stranger’s protest; when the film was developed, both photos appeared to be entirely unexposed. Finally the strange man told Bley that it was time for him to “return up there” and that, as he had no “money like yours,” he would pay for the bread and milk with some gold nuggets he had gathered from the local stream. Ribera spoke to the jeweler who bought these nuggets from Bley; he remembered the incident. The mayor of Casteil also verified the existence of the strange man. (16)

Midland woman says flying saucer men terrified her

A RANTON, near Stafford, woman today told the Express and Star that she and her two children had been terrified by a flying saucer, carrying two long-haired, human-like creatures in tight-fitting jerseys.

The machine landed in the garden, she stated. When she heard a noise like a crashing aircraft, yesterday, Mrs. Jessie Roestenburg, of isolated Vicarage Farm, Ranton, ran out into the garden. She found her two children lying prostrate and terrified.

The next house to Vicarage Farm is about two miles away. Above the children was a huge saucer-like object with a dome, the front part of which was transparent, stated Mrs. Roestenburg. Staring at the children from the machine were two "unsmiling, human-like creatures, with long faces and long hair."

Mrs. Roestenburg told our reporter that she ran to the back of the house in fright. The object then moved over the house, hovered there for about 15 seconds, and then shot off at high speed.

In June of this year, the vicar of nearby Staghford, the Rev. Cedric Wright, reported seeing a flying saucer over the vicarage at about midnight.

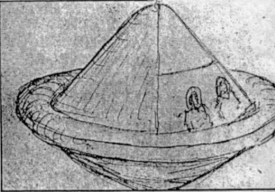

He said it was like a "pilot illuminated spider," and estimated it to be about 3ft. in diameter.

Today, Mr. Wright said: "I was not lucky enough to get such a close up view, as was Mrs. Roestenburg. This seems much more exciting and seems to confirm very much the sort of thing that I saw."

"It seems to me that these things are in the habit of frequenting our district. It cannot have been more than a couple of miles away from where I saw mine."

When her husband, an architect's assistant employed by Staffordshire

Mrs. Roestenburg, with her two sons sleeping close beside her, points to the place where, she says, she saw the flying saucer hovering near her house.

This is a sketch, made today by Mrs. Roestenburg, of the strange object that she states she saw in her garden. It appeared to be of "a dull silver metal," and the outer rim seemed to be revolve.

WOLVERHAMPTON EXPRESS & STAR.

The now classic encounter took place on October 21 1954 around 1645 near the village of Ranton, Stafford, England.

Mrs. Jessie Roestenburg heard a noise like an aircraft and she ran out into the garden. There she found her two children lying prostrate and terrified. Above the children was a huge saucer-like object with a dome, the front part of which was transparent stated Mrs. Roestenburg. Staring at the children from the machine were two unsmiling human-like creatures, with long faces and long hair. Jessie then ran to the back of the house in fright. The object then moved over the house, hovered there for about 15 seconds and then shot off at high speed. The men inside the object had white skin, long blond hair to their shoulders, and very high foreheads. They wore turquoise blue clothing, resembling ski suits. The object hovered at a tilted angle while the two occupants looked at the scene "sternly, not in an unkind fashion, but almost sadly, compassionately."

After about 15 seconds during which these men gazed at her, the craft ascended at a 45-degree angle, with a blinking violet light in front. Leaving a contrail, it circled the house, and then streaked out of sight. (17).

Another case from the same year occurred in the hamlet of Linha Bela Vista, state of Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil only a couple of months later on December 9 1954.

Sometime in the evening farmer Olmira da Costa e Rosa was cultivating his crops of French beans and maize at his place, 2 ½ miles from Venancio Aires, when he heard something ‘like a sewing machine’, and animals in a nearby field panicked. He then saw an object, shaped like a bowl or explorer’s hat, cream colored and enveloped in a smoky haze. It was hovering just above the ground, and three strange looking men were there, one inside the craft, one examining a barbed-wire fence, and one close to the farmer. In astonishment the farmer dropped his hoe, and the man smiled, approached, picked up the hoe, examined it carefully and handed it back to him. He then bent down plucked a few plants, and walked back towards the machine, with the others.

The craft rose slowly to about thirty feet, then accelerated, and flashed away towards the west at high speed. The farmer, almost completely illiterate, had never heard of ‘flying saucers’. He was able to study these men at close range and in great detail. They were of medium height, broad-shouldered, with long blond hair blowing in the wind. With their extremely pale skin and slanted eyes, they were not normal looking by Earth standards. Their clothing consisted of light brown coveralls garments fastened to their shoes, which were heel-less. He concluded that they must be aviators from some foreign country. (18).

The laughing spacemen of Aubagne

At the end of October 1959 in the village of Aubagne, Bouches du Rhone, France, around 1800 the witness a Miss Moulet, 45, was hanging out her washing in the twilight, with her 3 children, when she saw an egg-shaped object descend silently, to hover just above her. Through a wide triangular window in its front, strongly illuminated, she could see about 20 persons, tall, with wavy blond hair and very light skin. Wearing white suits and short sleeves. They were smiling or perhaps laughing at her. The air became very cold. After 10-15 minutes the object took off again, disappearing in 2 or 3 seconds, leaving a slight trail. (19)

In the sixties reports describing similar humanoids, tall, blond, human like, etc continued to come in from different locations worldwide, the so-called “Grays” were not yet here in force and abduction stories were few and far between.

A very brief report from 1963 details a case which purportedly took place in the Brazilian state of Parana, Brazil. At dawn as a crowd of people stood watching a forest fire, they saw huge “basin shaped” object “of a bright zinc color,” 100 ft wide; descend silently into the burning area, where it hovered 12 ft from the ground for 15 minutes. 2 or 3 “tall good-looking people” got out of it & descended to the ground and then walked about picking up burnt material, stones, etc. (20).

A series of strange events was reported the same year, 1963, from the small town of Seva, Puerto Rico. One afternoon the 11-year old witness (apparently involved in other encounters) was lying down for a siesta after lunch. As soon as she placed her head on her pillow, she felt strange, as if she couldn't move. She was panicked and tried to scream out for her mother (nearby) to help her, but her mother thought she was sleeping (dreaming). And then she saw a man enter the room. It was not something like a ghost because she could see him clearly.

The man was wearing some type of spacesuit, very similar to the one like the astronauts, except that he had no helmet at all and he had long hair. "And I was very scared, when I looked at him. He was fair skinned, blue eyes and beautiful long hair. And he looked at me and he tried to smile at me but I was so scared that I wasn't smiling. And I still was crying, you know, inside me I was crying 'Help me! Help me!'" you know. "Somebody is in the bedroom" The man then pointed to the wall, it was a concrete wall, and when she looked she was able to look through it, she then realized that she could see through all the walls. She saw the cars coming and going, the neighbor's house, etc. "And I felt maybe I m dreaming it all. I thought to myself, 'I am dreaming. It's just a dream.' And I saw all the movement that was going on at the time. And I was able to hear. My hearing was developing in such a way that I could hear miles away, everything that was going on. And I could even see the car that was going to come maybe three minutes later. And for me at first I was scared but later it was for me like a game, you know, that I could feel this, it was something that I enjoyed doing it, hearing whatever is going on three or four miles away, and looking at everything. And he just moved the finger and everything stopped. And when that happened, I look at him and he turned his back and disappeared. And then I was able to move again." She then told her mother about her weird "dream" and her mother told her that she had only been asleep for 2 or 3 minutes, "so it couldn't be." Her mother told her she saw her with her eyes closed "sleeping." (21).

In 1968 in the village of Savsjon, Varmland, Sweden, the main witness a woman named Lyyli Nilsson had been out fishing with her 11-year old daughter. The girl left and went home. As the child came to a ridge she saw two persons wearing overall like outfits and a bit further up a brownish bell-shaped object. A while later Lyyli passed the same place and saw the men who talked between themselves in an unknown language. Hiding about 40 meters from them, she saw that they were of a “Nordic” type and wore silvery overall-like outfits. Their craft stood a bit further up on the ridge. When she came home her daughter confirmed Mrs. Nilsson’s observation. (22).

On March 29 1968 at around 1:15 a.m. in Fos-su-Mer, Arles, France an unidentified 22-year old mechanic, on a motorbike between Fos-su-Mer and Port Saint Louis, observed a UFO descend and land near a power transformer. An opening appeared in the base from which was emitted a bright white light.

Then a human appearing entity emerged and descended to the ground on a kind of ramp. He wore a sort of “security guard’s outfit” with a “rolled collar.” The suit was light colored and brilliant, woven of heavy stitches. The man’s hair was while blond or white, and cut in a crew-cut. He examined the ground around him and then noticed the witness, whom he watched for a moment before re-entering the object. He examined the ground around him and then noticed the witness, whom he watched for a moment before re-entering the object. The UFO took off gently with a gust of cool air. (23).

Staying within the theme of this Volume I will describe a little known case that occurred at the height of the WWII (1943) in Dover Beach, England.

On an intensely foggy night a brother and sister had left the lights on and taken down the curtains, feeling the fog was blanket enough for the wartime blackout restrictions. The house was right by the beach, and they were decorating an upstairs bedroom for their parents. As they were busy wallpapering they just suddenly saw inches from the large bay windows a white craft hovering. It was like inverted saucers, with a wide band of bright blue separating the bottom solid white, from a transparent top. In this were two good looking young men, with long sandy hair to their shoulders. Dressed in white jumpsuits, with bright blue sashes at the waist, matching the craft, they were gazing with compassion at the witnesses. The craft was quite silent. The brother and sister decided, "As they were foreign looking, whilst they were obviously male, they had feminine hair styles." This was unheard of before the Beatles era ushered in long hair. "They had to be Russians," they decided "and perhaps they knew something more about the way the War was going, than we had been told." (24).

THE FRINGE

Again staying within the blond human-like, Nordic, humanoid, I like to present a strange series of events said to have occurred early in 1976 in France.

The location was the small town of Domene in the Isere region of France, and the first incident reportedly took place on January 5 1976.

Around 1750 Jean Claude Silvente, 10, was walking through a brush grown vacant lot (surrounded by buildings) when he heard a noise, and saw a UFO had landed at the edge of the brush. About 30 feet away, it was a bell-shaped object about 15 ft high, white luminous, resting on 5 thin legs. A door opened and a "giant" at least 6.5 foot tall emerged, walking stiffly and with his arms extended in front of him, in the manner of a sleepwalker. He wore a tight white luminous coverall and had long blond hair. On the back of his hands was a "green circle." When the boy sneezed, this 'giant' turned toward him, and Jean Claude ran home. Shortly afterwards he was sent to get milk; while returning, he saw the same being, following him on the sidewalk at 80 ft distance, still with his arms stiffly in front of him. The witness ran home. (25).

But it was not over for Silvente, the next day (January 6) around 1800, Silvente was returning from getting milk when again he saw the UFO being of the day before, in the same posture, only 12 ft away this time. He spilled the milk and ran. His sister's boyfriend, who was following him, saw nothing. But then, at the same place (on a sidewalk only 30 yards from his house), Jean Claude, his mother, his 17-year old sister, and her boyfriend saw a red "headlight" dive down from the sky at them "as it would land on them." They ran in panic to a nearby police station. (26).

There was an additional reported encounter on January 8, again in Domene, this time at around 2045 when an anonymous adolescent saw a red yellow point of light descend from the sky to the same vacant lot that a UFO had landed on the fifth. Getting up on a little gravel heap, he saw on the ground an object 60ft in diameter and 25ft high that emitted a bright red yellow light, which hurt the eyes. After 2 or 3 minutes he noticed a "non-material" luminous form, which frightened him so that he fled. (27).

Incredibly an almost identical humanoid was seen in another location in France 10 months later. In the evening of October 10 1976 in the small commune of Chamouilley, in the Haute-Marne, a girl from nearby Eurville was on her way to Cousances-les-Forges to meet her fiancée and she arrived at the exit to Chamouilley the beams of her Mobylette illuminated a very tall being standing in the middle of the road. The figure then advanced in her direction placing his arms directly in front of him (again like a sleepwalker). The humanoid measured over 2 meters in height; it had an uncovered head with long blond hair and was wearing something resembling welder's goggles that covered his eyes. The figure also wore a phosphorescent combination suit that reflected light. The frightened witness dropped her moped and took refuge in a friend's house nearby. She did not see the humanoid depart. (28).
